PENN CENTRAL 3
DVD # 20103dvd

Things were a little different on the Penn Central during every one of the eight years of its brief existence. By mid 1971, nearly all the locomotives of the predecessor Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads had been repainted into somber dark, dark Brunswick green. The railroad was mired deeper and deeper in bankruptcy, as a new national rail passenger carrier, Amtrak, was starting to emerge from the dark shadows of the PC's paint scheme following its launching on May 1st, 1971. Emery Gulash had his movie cameras trained on the rail action. He starts with a series of scenes in America's Railroad Capital, Chicago, as Amtrak and Penn Central trains burnish the rails in and out of Union Station. The old Michigan Central depot at Detroit serves as an anchor for Emery, as he returns again and again from his travels to photograph trains at the formidable structure. Amtrak demonstrates its United Aircraft Turbotrain at Niles and Kalamazoo. Toledo comes in for its share of pulsating train operations, as do Ypsilanti, Dearborn, Jackson, Chelsea, New Buffalo, Ann Arbor, Westland, and Delphi Mills, Michigan. Our very full program winds up with scenes of two special passenger trains operated in November 1972 by the Chessie System for General Motors executives bound for a business conference in West Virginia. 75 Minutes

$34.95

BNSF-TRACKS OF THE OLD SANTA FE VOL. 3 BELEN TO MOUNTAINAIR, NEW MEXICO
DVD # 20102dvd

In Volume 3 of Tracks of the old Santa Fe we'll cross the Rocky Mountains through the professional camera lens of Rich Scheid. This is Santa Fe's southern crossing on the Rockies and the main line crossing of this range of mountains. The BNSF winds its way through the mountains...This highly scenic crossing is called ABO Canyon. The railroad crosses seven bridges through the canyon and Green Frog's photographer Rich Scheid captures all seven bridges from many different angles, As Rich hikes through the canyon down below track level and above. The video ends in Mountainair, New Mexico on the east side of the Rockies. 61 Minutes DVD Special Features

THE GOLDEN TWILIGHT OF POSTWAR STEAM PART 3 CAJON TO HORSESHOE: TRAINS ACROSS MID-AMERICA AND THE WEST
DVD # 20088dvd

Gene Miller got around during the 1940s and 1950s...shooting classic and irreplaceable 16mm movies near his home in the St. Louis area and farther to the north, west and east... as steam power was fading from the American rail scene with the arrival of First Generation diesel motive power.

Journey with Gene as he photographs train action in Metro Chicago and the St. Louis area and then heads west to see the Union Pacific, Santa Fe and Southern Pacific in all their steam glory. He returns to the Baltimore & Ohio in Kentucky before wrapping up on the Pennsylvania Railroad's legendary Horseshoe Curve. 45 Minutes

EXPANDING YOUR MODEL RAILROAD 3 PACK DVD SET

All three Shows now in a 3 pack DVD Set!
DVD's NOT SOLD SEPARATELY!
3 Pack
DVD # 20086dvd

SHOW #1 This video program is the first in a series of "How-To-Do-It"...how to expand that first model railroad you just completed! You've built a small layout (in our case one from Woodland Scenics) and now you want MORE!!! Part one covers the following:--Benchwork Construction--Installation of sub and main roadbed--Laying track and switches--Tying into the original layout--Rough-in scenery, including tunnels--Fascia board around the layout--Installation of Photo Mural Backdrops Trestle building over a saw mill pond Rock castings for scenery...In volumes to follow, we'll cover more detailing of scenery, structure building, tree making, installation of DCC with sound, installation of a river and mill pond, blending those photo-mural backgrounds into the "live" scenery, and finally operation that's prototypical.

$49.95

68 Minutes COMPUTER ROM FEATURE--Load this DVD into your PC for a HIGH-RES .jpg Layout plan which you can print out on your own printer.
DVD Special Features--Dolby Digital 2.0 Stereo, Chapter Search, Motion Menus

SHOW #2 In this video we'll color our finished scenery using a variety of earth colors. Then we'll ziptexture the scenery using a variety of powdered colors. Grass and weeds will be added to our mountain. Following the grasses, we'll add bushes and trees. Ballast is needed for our track, and we'll show you how to blend it in to the scenery. Another bridge will be installed over our river, and a retaining wall will be built and installed under the bridge. Next more plaster gauze scenery will help form our river, and bridge bents will be scratched built. The other side of the backdrop will be covered with a photo mural, and the original backdrop will be blended into the layout using trees and shrubs. A town will be laid out near the logging operations, and more blending of bushes and grasses will help push our backdrop to the distance. Then we'll tackle the saw mill pond which will be painted and blended in to our scenery. We'll hire an artist friend to blend our mountain into the photo mural backdrop. A wood retaining wall will be added to our mill pond, and the other photo mural will be blended in to our scenery. Next a sluice gate will be added to the river and more mountains and rocks as well as live scenery will help blend our backdrop into the layout, and finally additional scenery will be added along the first backdrop.

61 Minutes COMPUTER ROM FEATURE--Load this DVD into your PC for a HIGH-RES .jpg Layout plan which you can print out on your own printer. DVD Special Features--Dolby Digital 2.0 Stereo, Chapter Search, Motion Menus

SHOW #3 In volume three of "Expanding Your Model Railroad" owner Jim Hoffman sells his Woodland Scenics layout to a local modeler, and we now have a void to fill...and we'll fill that with a mining and logging operation. We'll move the existing layout to accommodate the new addition, and we'll add some overhead track lighting to improve the overall lighting on the layout. Next, we'll weather some structures with dry powder and add them to the existing layout, and we'll scratchbuild a small engine house for the current layout, and weather it as well. We'll install that building as well as add scenery around it. Then we'll construct the benchwork for the new New addition. We'll also continue adding scenery and details to our existing layout...such as the stock pens. we'll add some larger leaf type trees and Aspen trees to our background scene. Spline sub-roadbed, homasote roadbed, and finally cork roadbed will be added before we lay track, and track and turnouts come next... including a diamond crossing. Then we'll jump back to that mill pond and work on the scenery once again, and we'll begin the massive amounts of scenery that will enhance our new mountainous area...adding rock castings and coloring using spray guns and hand brushes...followed by zip techuring and various foams from both Woodland Scenics and Scenic Express. Quite a lot of trees will be added to this new mountainous area...including a bunch of scratch built tall pine trees. Then a lift out section that will be constructed to allow access to the scenes and track in the back of the layout. We'll install a mining complex to provide some switching operations for our mining branch, and we'll finally pour our river from the sluice gate and more "water" downstream! 60 Minutes

THE GOLDEN TWILIGHT OF POSTWAR PART 2

Rails in the Heartland

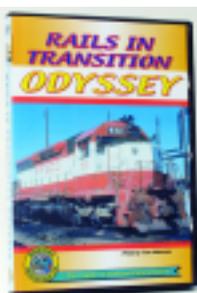

The L&N, C&EI and IT

DVD # 20066dvd

It was an era of war and heartbreak and then of peace and hope and prosperity. The nation's railroads were stressed nearly to the limit during World War II and then emerged from the conflict to confront nearly worn-out and aging steam locomotives and a dwindling passenger business.

$34.95

Despite this, it was still a heady period on the high iron. Gene Miller was in the Heartland during this era shooting 16mm movies of this tough transition initially, in and around Evansville, Indiana. Many of our rail action scenes were shot in Evansville where the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railway made an end-to-end connection with the Louisville and Nashville at the L&N passenger depot alongside the Ohio River. The C&EI entered Evansville from the northeast, ran down the middle of Division Street, and jogged over one block to end at the depot which had run-through tracks and a stub-end terminal for Louisville & Nashville trains. The L&N headed west, across Pigeon Creek, where its line to St. Louis split off at a wye at North Howell. The L&N's Howell Yard and bustling engine terminal were alongside the line heading south to Louisville and Nashville. From 16mm Film transferred to video! 45 Minutes DVD Special Features- *Audio Select Narration On/Off *Dolby Digital 5.1 Surround Sound *Chapter Search *Motion Map *Slide Show *Motion Menus

RAILS IN TRANSITION ODYSSEY

DVD # 20062dvd

(Two-Disc Set)(Part 1) The 1960's were a time for change in the railroad industry. Passenger train service was diminishing. Freight service was not holding its own on many roads. It was during this time that noted photographer Jerry Carson chose to capture these major changes in America's railroads. This video covers Missouri Pacific, Norfolk & Western, Gulf Mobile and Ohio, Pennsylvania Railroad, The Frisco, and The Manufacturers Railroad (Owned by Anheiser Busch.) Photographed in crisp, sharp 16mm. (Part 2) The 1960's and early 1970's were a time for change in the railroad industry. During the 1960's and early 1970's, Jerry Carson set out to capture the flavor of American railroading at its best. Part 2 covers the following railroads: Chicago & North Western, Chesapeake and Ohio, Baltimore and Ohio, South Shore, Milwaukee Road, Katy, Santa Fe, TRRA, CB&Q. THE GOLDEN TWILIGHT OF POSTWAR STEAM PART 1

$34.95

The Pennsy's West End and its Neighbors

DVD # 20058dvd

Gene Miller took superb 16mm movies of railroad steam action right after World War II. (75% in COLOR!) Join with us as we step back over a half century to view and enjoy Part 1 of the memorable rail movies he shot mostly during the era between 1945 and 1950 with, perhaps, some scenes earlier than that of the Pennsylvania Railroad in Metro Chicago, St. Louis, Terre Haute, and the surrounding areas and its neighboring railroads. An incredible array of steamers from the Pennsy appear in the major first part of this program, such as J-1's, T-1's, K-4's M-1A's, H Class 0-8-0's, H-6's, H-10's. Early diesels also show their stuff, such as F-3's, F-7's, as well as Baldwin Centipedes. Many other railroad's steam and early diesels are found in Chicago, and the West End including Frisco, Alton & Southern, Terminal R.R. of St. Louis, Grand Trunk, GM&O, C&O, C&WI, DM&IR, Erie, Monon, Belt Ry, Chicago Great Western, C&NW, NYC, Wabash, and L&N. ALL ABOARD 5 PACK DVD
DVD # 20057dvd
(26 EPISODES IN A 5 DISC SET!)

This series examines many aspects of the North American Railroad scene. Each episode explores a small portion of the steel rail system which played a major role in the development of North America. Many of the shows incorporate historic film footage recording the early days when the trains were powered by the steam locomotive. Much has been written about these machines, which so many have described as living things. While they have disappeared from everyday operation, it is still possible to witness their sights and sound through these film clips. This is a living history as these episodes display the development of the railroads up to the present day. A glimpse of changes in lifestyles is also seen as people interact with the railroads through time. Today the railroads are dominated by the massive high horsepower diesel locomotive thundering across the countryside. Although much of the variety of railroad companies has disappeared over the years, present day rail operation is featured, including Amtrak's national passenger service. The interest in preservation has lead to the establishment of several 'tourist' railroads running historic equipment through fabulous scenic vistas, several will complement this series for the viewer's enjoyment.

$99.95

BUILDING THE DENVER & RIO GRANDE NARROW GAUGE VOLUME 3 Building Chama
DVD # CP092
 Welcome to Building The Rio Grande Narrow Gauge and Building Chama. In this program, we'll first lay out the yard for Chama right on the floor. Then we'll construct the bench-work for Chama along two walls around the corner from our scene of Gato. We'll build a turntable kit and modify the bridge for narrow gauge track. The next step is to construct the roadbed between Gato and Chama. Plaster gauze will be added to the scene, and zip texturing comes next. Then, we'll scratch build the Chama Roundhouse and machine shop. The roundhouse and turntable module will be dropped into the newly completed bench-work. Shrubs, bushes and ground cover will be added to the scene leading to Chama. We'll scratch build the Chama station from commercial wood, plastic sheet and windows. Then we'll set the station in place and scenic around the structure. Chama had an oil facility served by tank cars, and we'll scratch build that next. The yard will be blended with the painted backdrop and large Cotton Wood trees. Shrubs, grasses and more Cotton Wood trees will be added along the wall. We'll take a ride between Durango and Chama over our newly extended sections..finally arriving at Chama. 53 Mins. STEEL RAILS-PRIVATE VARNISH VOLUME 1

$24.95

DVD # CP083
 They came from all over the country, some of the grandest vehicles to roll over dry land. Private railway cars, once the exclusive domain of the rich and famous, came together in October, 1994. They gathered at Chicago to be made up into a colorful train of private varnish to run to St. Louis's grand restored Union Station. Once they were in the Gateway City, nearly two dozen of the cars, together for the convention of the American Association of Private Railroad Car

$34.95

Owners, Inc., were opened to the public. At the end of the festivities, another special train returned the cars to the Windy City via the Burlington Northern's spectacular line alongside the Mississippi River. The best of the fall foliage season heightened the magnitude of this special train of many colors. As the official videographer at the convention, Green Frog was there. In the air. On the ground. At the trackside. Inside the cars. Behind the scenes. In the kitchens. In the dining rooms. In the lounges. In the domes. In the sleeping sections.

STEEL RAILS-PRIVATE VARNISH VOL. 2
 In this Railfan version of the Private Car convention in St. Louis, you will see only the runbys and the aerial shots of the special train as it winds its way from Chicago to St. Louis, and back to Chicago. This 30 minute video provides some spectacular scenes along the Mississippi in beautiful Fall colors...

STYRENE-THE IDEAS, TIPS & TECHNIQUES OF DEAN FREYTAG

DVD # CP082

Introduced by Mr. Jack Brown Styrene clinics have been conducted by Dean Freytag for many years at model railroading conventions across the country. The large attendance at these clinics is testament to Dean's expertise in this field. Now available is an exclusive, in-depth video presentation of Dean's many ideas on how to create interesting and unique models using styrene. Dean provides the basics of construction as well as many innovative uses of tools and parts. These are the techniques which have worked for Dean, and you are encouraged to expand on them and develop some new ones of your own. Featured Subjects: • Adhesives • Materials & Parts • Construction Basics • Tools • Scratchbuilding • Kitbashing • Finishing Dean Freytag is a Master Model Railroader and former national contest chairman for the National Model Railroad Association. years in the making. Highlights of this breathtaking odyssey include: *Susquehanna Railroad trains between New Jersey and Binghamton, NY *Locations along the legendary Delaware Division including Millrift, Lackawaxen, *Gulf Summit, Starrucca Viaduct, and Susquehanna *The Binghamton area including the Canadian Pacific at Harpursville Trestle, Beldon Hill, and Tunkhannock Viaduct *Operating semaphores between Binghamton and Buffalo, NY *Conrail and Norfolk Southern trains soaring over Portage Viaduct, one of the highest railroad bridges in the Northeast! We've also included several "then and now" scenes, showing what the line looked like under former owner, the Erie Lackawanna Railway. You'll be amazed at the astounding variety of trains along this scenic and historic line and will quickly understand why the Southern Tier is one of the most revered lines in the Northeast! 60 Minutes DVD Special Features-Dolby Digital 2.0 Stereo, Chapter Search, Motion Menus

PENN CENTRAL VOL. 4

DVD # 20113dvd $34.95

Hope springs eternal as the snowbanks melt every spring. There was not much hope on the Penn Central, deeply mired in a bottom-less financial quagmire in the spring of 1973. Nobody knew at the time, but the then-five-year-old railroad was at the mid-point in its bankruptcy...it had failed financially on June 21, 1970...on April 1,1996, it would be absorbed into Conrail. Meanwhile, the railroad and its employees and officials were making the best of the situation...continuing as usual, despite adversity, to provide service across its sprawling system. Emery Gulash was trackside with his movie cameras, recording the pulsating P C rail action during another difficult year. You will see; Electrics, Amtrak trains, First generation Diesels, Passenger trains, DT&I Loco's, a Circus train, Freight trains and more! Locations include; Dearborn, South Junction Yard, Michigan, Romulus, Wayne Junction, Ann Arbor, Ohio, The Northeast Corridor and more...Approx. 63 Minutes DVD Special Features- Dolby Digital 5.1 Surround Sound, Chapter Search, Motion Menus, Audio Select Narration On/Off

ILLINOIS TRAINS JOURNEY THROUGH THE DECADES 5 DISC SET

DVD # 20115dvd $49.95

SOUTH SHORE OF THE 70'S

From the camera of Dan Morris comes all color and sound action on the South Shore Railroad of the 1970's. The car logo proclaimed "The Little Train That Could". Join us for a look at the CSS&SB in 1975-1978 as filmed in color with original sound.

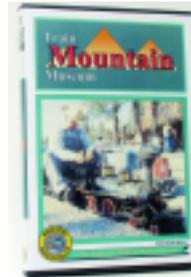

You'll see passenger operations from Chicago, Illinois to South Bend, Indiana and experience freight action with "Little Joe's" and ex-Chessie Geep 7's. These films were taken during one of the South Shore's darkest hours. A period when parent railroad, Chessie, was petitioning the ICC to abandon passenger service. But the South Shore survives today with an all new passenger fleet. This DVD covers operations from Randolph Street to South Bend. You'll see fall colors, as well as summer and winter scenes! The South Shore line truly is "The Little Train That Did" Approx. 67 Minutes

RAILS CHICAGO IN THE 80'S

Rails Chicago was originally released in 1987. Since that time, quite a bit of additional material has come to light, including video captured by Steve Neff of Neff Video Productions. It is Green Frog's intent to maintain the highest standards of video and audio productions for the railfan to enjoy. So with this re-release, we present much of what was part of Rails Chicago first released in 1987, and additional material from Green Frog and Neff Video. The images in the production are much improved over the earlier version. There is additionally more detail on locations, locomotives and especially the railroads themselves. The following railroads, as they operated in 1987, are displayed: Indiana Harbor Belt, Santa Fe, Conrail, Grand Trunk, Illinois Central, Chicago & North Western, Norfolk Southern, Burlington Northern, Chessie System, Amtrak, South Shore, Union Pacific, Milwaukee Road, Metra, Soo Line. This video provides tremendous highlights into the hub of rail action in the United States. Approx. 55 Minutes

DESIGNING

DVD # 70001dvd $15.95

The layout was originally designed by Jim Hediger, Senior Editor at Model Railroader. Much of the video will show how the Green Frog staff took Jim's drawing and made a working plan using the computer aided design program Cadrail. Visit a hobby shop for an introduction to what the beginning modeler might find in the way of kits and supplies.

BENCHWORK 1

DVD # 70002dvd $15.95

Smooth running trains and believable scenery depend on a good foundation, the benchwork. Video shows step by step how to assemble the tried and true method of benchwork known as L-Girder construction.

BENCHWORK 2

DVD # 70003dvd $15.95

(Including Branchline) Part 2 continues with the cutting of roadbed and construction of the upper level branch line of the Apple Valley Branch.

LAYING TRACK

DVD # 70004dvd $15.95

(Including Switches) After the layout is designed and the benchwork built, the usual place for modelers to next turn is to the laying of track. This video covers many techniques for laying Atlas Code 83 flex track and turnouts for smooth operation.

WIRING

COMMAND CONTROL

DVD # 70005-Rdvd $15.95

Video begins with introduction to command control and its primary differences with the basic transformer. A. J. Ireland of Digitrax makes it simple with easy to follow steps as he shows how to install the decoders in several locomotives. Next, wiring of the Apple Valley Branch track is shown complete with a reversing loop.

BUILDING STRUCTURES

DVD # 70006dvd $15.95 This video is NOT about taking one structure kit and going through each and every step of building a kit. This video shows a variety of steps and techniques using BH Models and Walthers Corner Stone series of kits.

ROLLING STOCK

DVD # 70007dvd $15.95

Many fine kits of HO scale freight cars are available that take little time to assemble and provide a means to quickly populate a layout. Many of the steps for building different types of cars are shown.

SCENERY

DVD # 70008dvd $15.95

Scenery is not that difficult with Woodland Scenics' products and this video will show you how to easily create scenes that will make your layout come alive.

ADDING REALISM

DVD # 70009dvd $15.95

Many examples of details are provided on this video to give ideas of what can be done to take a scene from plain and ordinary to something that really stands out.

OPERATING

DVD # 70010dvd $15.95

This video will show operating possibilities as we discuss how the real railroads would do it.

camera of Steve Neff...From the camera of Steve Neff comes more action packed video of one of America's favorite train watching areas: Illinois. IN SEARCH OF NARROW GAUGE MIKADOS

DVD # CP087 $24.95

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to travel along the canyons and off the beaten track of the Durango and Silverton and the Cumbres and Toltec from end to end, shooting scenes no one has ever seen before (from off the train)? Well an amazing photographer by the name of Tim Lab has accomplished this, and more! For five years he has traveled through the back country of Colorado with professional 16mm film equipment to photograph these two beautiful railroads! Did you know that there is another narrow Mikado (2-8-2) running outside of Colorado? K-27 class engine number 464 runs frequently at the Huckleberry Railroad in Michigan. This beautifully restored engine appears as if it were built yesterday. The "search" for those Mikados will uncover a bunch: 464, 473, 476, 478, 480, 481, 484, 487, 488, 489 and 497. All of these are beautifully photographed while performing their daily duties, many shot in locations you've never seen them in before! And you will get into a portion of the Durango roundhouse and tour the yards as well! Tim Lab has been photographing trains for over ten years using the absolute best professional 16mm equipment available. His keen eye for composition, and his unbelievable patience to wait for just the right scene (sometimes for days!) makes his photography well worth looking for. Like Hollywood professionals, Tim shoots with negative film (like the type which is used to make prints). Transferred from colorful 16mm film to digital video tape, and edited in our own broadcast quality studio Approx. 81 Minutes DVD Special Features- Dolby Digital 2.0 Stereo, Chapter Search, Motion Menus

DVD # 20054dvd

Photo mural backdrops are relatively new to the model railroad hobby. In this program, we'll show you how we added four backdrops to a large model railroad. We'll install a small heavily wooded backdrop, with lots of model trees to blend the backdrop into the layout. Then we'll cover a pesky location that just cried for a backdrop a scene that included some serious blending with live model scenery. Then we'll tackle a much larger backdrop, and Bas-Relief buildings will be added to blend in that backdrop!

$29.95

We'll remove an old paper backdrop that did not match our current needs, and install a huge 18 foot long one to replace it, and we'll begin blending in that huge backdrop by adding scenery flat against it. We'll hire an artist friend to sculpt rocks on our scene with a palette knife to match our backdrop. The artist will also paint small trees and shrubs between the backdrop and the live scenery. Finally we'll show you how to blend the scene with real model trees and shrubs, matching trees in the foreground to the background. Also covered is how to use scanned photos of real buildings, and install them into the scene so they appear to be way in the distance, and we'll also add some ground cover to blend in those buildings. And, we'll show you how to add a Bas-Relief building to the backdrop and the new scenery. And finally we'll add many "half" trees and shrubs to blend in our flat scenery to the mural. 1 Hour 6 Minutes DVD Special Features- *Dolby Digital 2.0 Stereo *Chapter Search

RAILFANNING THE SANTA FE

Modeling for Photography DVD # CP081

Model railroading is a great hobby. So is photography. Many modelers have combined both skills to accomplish everything from sharing their model work to use as a tool for recreating prototype scenes. Gary Hoover's layout is designed for the railfan. He has taken his favorite locations from Illinois to the Pacific and created scenes that railfans would have to travel for days to cover. But Green Frog covers them all in this video adventure as we visit

$24.95

Castle Gate, Utah, the deserts of the southwest, the mountains of Colorado, a Pacific coast scene with a working lighthouse, and more! As an added bonus, Gary will demonstrate how he modeled those terrific waves on the Pacific coast and tips on building a prototype scene for photography. Castle Gate. Gary's layout has been featured in Kalmbach's 1994 Great Model Railroads, Model Railroad Planning 1996, and several issues of Model Railroader. This video will inspire you to build scenes that are realistic and photogenic, combining two great hobbies into one.

SCRATCH BUILDING STRUCTURES

DVD # 20055dvd

$29.95

In this video program we'll show you how to build four structures from scratch. We'll show you: (1) A small boiler house; (2) Offices attached to a roundhouse that house the shop foreman and that include great detail and interesting roof arrangement; (3) A repair facility with complete interior detail, including lighting, an interesting removable roof, and a small lean-to attached to one side. This building also includes some rather interesting window arrangements...(4) A passenger and freight station which is built as if it were sliced down the middle... since there was not enough room for a complete building. The construction of these structures were taken from the original programs of our very popular series on Building the Rio Grande Southern, but more detail about the construction of each item is shown in this program.

DVD # CP088 $24.95

Green Frog brings you action galore, from the photography of Roger M. Koenig, of railroading in the 1960's around Chicago's south side. The railroads featured are: Wabash, Rock Island, Illinois Central, Santa Fe, Grand Trunk, B&O, Chicago & Northwestern, Pennsy, and C&O. Great passenger train sequences on most roads! Steam excursions: (Run-bys and onboard) Grand Trunk Western #6218 in winter scenes. Grand Trunk Western #5629 and #6322. Also included are some beautiful steam sequences on the Chicago & Northwestern. Locos #590, 638, 656, 583, 505, 615, and 598 are featured, as well as #629 (streamlined for Dakota & North Woods "400's"). Steam ended on the C&NW just one month after these shots were taken! 98% color, from original 8mm film, professionally transferred on state of the art liquid gate system. DVD Special Features- Dolby Digital 2.0 Stereo, Chapter Search, Motion Menus

1995 RIO GRANDE FREIGHT TRAIN & 1997 MAINTENANCE OF WAY TRAIN NARROW GAUGE COMBO PACK

DVD # CP089 $24.95

1995 RIO GRANDE FREIGHT TRAIN
Rio Grande's narrow gauge number 463, a class K-27 shows her stuff in this spectacular video. The class K-27 locomotive, a 2-8-2 Mikado is only one of Mikes of her class remaining in operation today. This locomotive is one of 15 built in 1903 by Baldwin, and delivered to the D&RGW. They were originally Vauclain compound locomotives, but the cost of maintenance forced their rebuilding to "simple" engines a few years after delivery. In 1923, following the laying of heavier rail, the K-27's began operation on the Antonito to Durango line, so K-27 number 463 was brought back home in 1971, having been donated by it's owner Gene Autry. With its single tone (and loud) whistle, as well as its low hung look, the K-27 (Mudhen) is very unique. Follow Rio Grande K-27 and an authentic D&RGW freight through the mountains and prairies of the Rockies. The line traverse's the territory from Chama, New Mexico to Antonito and return. Many, many runbys in remote locations mostly only accessible by train! If you want to see how it really was back in the 30's or 40's, then this freight extra is for you! 60 Minutes

1997 MAINTENANCE OF WAY TRAIN

The Rio Grande Derrick OP is the second star of this show, along with authentic maintenance of way cars and caboose in this exciting program...pulled by the K-27, number 463. This video covers the ONLY time this train has ever appeared in this configuration. The program follows the train from Chama to Antonito and return... including beautiful scenes throughout the line...both tunnels, Toltec Gorge, water stops, and much, much more. 60 Minutes

THE OLD SOUTHSHORE - AMERICAS LAST CLASSIC INTERURBAN RAILWAY

DVD # 20116dvd $29.95 By the late 1970s, the Chicago, South Shore and South Bend Railroad was living out the last years as a step-child of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway. The C&O had purchased the South Shore in 1965 as a bridge route for its freight business. A decade later, the drain on revenues from extensive passenger operations was taking its toll on the 91-mile railway running from downtown Chicago to South Bend, Indiana. Born shortly after the dawn of the twentieth century, the South Shore had been the sturdiest of Samuel Insull's network of Midwestern electric interurban railways—and it managed to survive on that strength when all the others faded away. By 1976, the paint on the cars was chipped and frayed, and the many stations were becoming, well, a little run-down. Despite this, the South Shore rolled on in the hands of its capable employees. Join with us as we look at the 1976-1980 era South Shore through the movie camera lens of Roger M. Koenig.

LOGGING RAILROADS Modeling Prototype

DVD # CP072

This video closely examines not only the operations of several logging railroads, but also how the trees were cut, loaded and then unloaded at the sawmill. Then, to really get the creative sap flowing, we'll show how three great modelers have applied the prototype practices to their layouts. The prototype railroads featured on this video were shot with film cameras between the 1920's and the 1960's. The film has been transferred to Digital Beta tape and edited in our broadcast quality suite. Featured railroads include the Westside, Rayonier, Mower, Ely-Thomas, Grasse River RR, and more. We also visit the outstanding layouts of Bob Clarke, Dr. Charles Patti, and Lou Ullian, each predominantly built around the logging industry. All three layouts have been featured in the modeling press. They are highly detailed and exemplify the complete industry, from trees to sawmills. Logging railroads were well known for their "make do" approach to railroading. Each of these layouts feature this approach. As a bonus, Bob Clarke will show how to make ground cover quickly and easily. Written by Tom Beaton, a recognized authority on logging railroads, this video will inspire you when the chips are down.

BUILDING THE DENVER & RIO GRANDE NARROW GAUGE IN HO SCALE-VOLUME 4 BUILDING CHAMA to CUMBRES

DVD # CP094 $24.95
In Volume 4 of this series, we'll finally complete the Rio Grande Narrow Gauge taking you up to and completing the line to Cumbres. We'll lay out the woodwork from Chama to Cumbres, and construct all the benchwork necessary. Then we'll build some bridges to take us over the Chama River. Next, we'll lay track up to Cumbres, which will include a passing siding and a tunnel. The large snowshed that appeared at Cumbres in the working days of the Grande will be scratched in place. Our artist, Pat Lemmerman, will paint some backdrops for our new scene out of Chama. There is a small lake at Cumbres, and we'll build that next. Finally, the rugged scenery will be constructed up to Cumbres, to create the high elevations and the mountains surrounding the area. We'll complete our program by mounting some trains for a live meet at Cumbres. COMPUTER ROM FEATURE-Load this DVD into your PC for HIGH-RES photos of the layout and structures which you can print out on your own printer. CONRAIL-5 DISC SET

DVD # 20121 $59.95
CONRAIL 1-THE WEST SLOPE-Conrail's West Slope's average grade of 1% is easier than the 1.5% grade of the East Slope, but it is longer, so helpers are needed for both ascending and descending the grade. This VIDEO covers the line through this fantastic helper district. You'll see tremendous action between Gallitzin, PA and Johnstown, PA. We'll see the tunnels at Gallitzin; village of Cresson (where helpers are based); action at Lilli; Casandra (deep rock cut); action at Summer-hill; Southfork (and the connection with the branchline); Mineral Point (and the beautiful valley below); and finally Johnstown. 58 Minutes
CONRAIL 2-MIDDLE DIVISION-ALTOONA TO HARRISBURG-The big blue locomotives are really moving as Green Frog presents its second VIDEO in the Conrail series. Pennsylvania has a tremendous legacy of railroad action and Conrail keeps it going with coal drags, double stackers, general merchandise freights and more. This division sees 30 to 40 trains a day for continuous action. We'll visit the Juniata shops in Altoona, Conrail's major rebuild facility for its large fleet of locomotives. Harrisburg is the site of Enola yard and 24 hour a day operations that make for some great night shots. In between, we'll see the Tyrone, PA interchange between the Nittany & Bald Eagle short line and Conrail, and Mount Union - once an interchange between the Pennsy and the East Broad Top. Not to be missed is the "longest stone arch bridge in the world" at Rockville, PA. And, of course, there's the famous Horseshoe Curve, a train watcher's paradise in the heart of Pennsylvania's spectacular scenery. All of this and more as Conrail locomotives battle over grades and through tunnels. 88 Minutes

CONRAIL 3-PITTSBURGH TO CRESTLINE-Conrail is on the move again with Green Frog Productions' video coverage of the busy mainline between Pittsburgh and Crestline, Ohio. This active line sees 60 trains per day, and we visit over 20 locations. This was once the main line west from Pittsburgh for the Pennsylvania Railroad, home to some of the heaviest duty railroading in America. The eastern half of this line is mountainous terrain. Big Blue pulsating power provides helper service through Highland Cut. Almost 4000 cars a day are classified at Conway Yard - Conrail's largest yard. At Crestline, we'll see Triple Crown trailers being interchanged between rail and highway service. Conrail as an independent entity could be in its final year as other railroads are seeking to buy it out. Watch history in the making as the big blue locomotives of Conrail roll out their final days. Locals and mainline, shortlines and pool power - its all here in broadcast quality video and dynamic digital stereo sound. 58 Minutes

CONRAIL 4-INDIANAPOLIS TO ST. LOUIS-Conrail hosts plenty of foreign power in this action video. This VIDEO highlights operations along The Big Four. The Big Four was originally named the Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati and St. Louis (for the four cities it went through). The New York Central took it over in order to gain access to Western operations. We'll visit places such as Terre Haute, Indiana; Effingham, Illinois, Greencastle, Indiana, Avon, Indiana and East St. Louis, Illinois. We'll also take you on an exciting tour of the manufacturing operations of Wabash National the builders of the RoadRailers. This video highlights other railroads that cross Conrail as well, such as: Illinois Central, Union Pacific, Burlington Northern, Norfolk Southern and CSX. We'll visit an ex-Conrail tower in East St. Louis, now run by Gateway Eastern. This video highlight lots of night time action at Effingham and Terre Haute. If you like variety, then this exciting video is just the ticket! 87 Minutes

CONRAIL WINTER-Photographer Rich Scheid's professional digital camera captures the last winter for Conrail, and the worst in Conrails history. Shot on the Dearborn Division, where 32 inches of snow fell in just a few days. Operations came to a halt with switches snow covered and frozen. We visit location's in Michigan and Ohio along the Detroit to Toledo line, and on the Michigan line which runs from Detroit to Chicago. 69 Minutes DVD Special Features- Dolby Digital 5.1 Surround Sound, Chapter Search, Motion Menus, Audio Select Narration On/Off

In cooperation with the Cass Scenic Railroad of West Virginia, he has run logging trains through the woods, up switchbacks, and with double headed trains! The Spectaculars ran in spring, fall and winter. Carl, along with his friend Robert Flack, captured some of the most fantastic material ever shot of logging trains on 16mm film. In this DVD you will see Shay's #2, #3, #4, #5, and Heisler #6 work logging trains up to lofty Bald Knob (4,842 ft.). You'll also witness action with Western Maryland Shay #6 on the Durbin branch, (the now extinct ex-C&O Greenbriar branch). The winter shots are really spectacular, some in blinding blizzards!.. and the spring and fall shots will also take your breath away! Beside breathtaking runbys, there is action of each of these trains filmed from special photo trains, as well as the traditional all steam train race near the Cass station! There are NO tourist trains in these shots...just logging trains! In addition, this DVD includes more than 15 minutes of film from the predecessor to the Cass, the Mower Lumber Company. This 16mm color footage shows actual logging operations of Mower and other footage from Cass, shot by photographer Robert Flack! The Mower Company footage includes log loaders and skidders, log trains being loaded, switched, dumped, and logs being dragged by the "green chain" into the mill!... in fact just the Mower footage is worth the price of this DVD!!!...its that good! 89 Minutes

DETROIT EDISON COAL TRAINS-FROM COAL TO KILO-WATTS-Detroit Edison is Michigan's largest electric utility. A great deal of that electricity is supplied by coal fired generators, and much of that coal arrives by train! Since Detroit Edison receives coal from mines in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Eastern Kentucky, and the Powder River Basin area, environmental factors must also be met as Western coal is properly blended with eastern coal. In this DVD from Green Frog, you will see operations on seven major railroads, from the Powder River Basin to the Eastern coal fields, from the mines to the power plant. Detroit Edison's locomotives also appear in many of these trains which include mid-train helpers. Coal is transported on these Class 1 railroads: Grand Trunk, Conrail, Norfolk Southern, CSX Transportation, Burlington Northern, Union Pacific, and Chicago & North Western. You will also see trans-shipment of coal from trains to Great Lakes vessels, these vessels then carry the coal to some of the power plants. 79 Minutes DVD Special Features- Dolby Digital 2.0 Stereo, Chapter Search, Motion Menus-Appalachian Coal Only Dolby Digital 5.1 Surround Sound-Cass & Mower Only

This video reveals why Cincinnati, Ohio is considered the "Railroad Gateway to the South". Cincinnati, an unlikely location for a railroad gateway, is located amidst seven hills and the Ohio River. The reason why this location became a hub is that, at one time, seven railroads converged here. Today, Norfolk-Southern and CSX are the major players. NS has traffic coming from the New Castle line (Ft. Wayne to Cincinnati), the Dayton District (Columbus to Cincinnati) and from the First District

(Danville KY to Cincinnati). The First District is also a "link" to Chattanooga which in turn is a connector to rail lines leading to Atlanta, Florida, Birmingham, New Orleans and other points. CSX has traffic coming from Indianapolis, Toledo, and Louisville. Two major yards are located in Cincinnati. Gest Street Yard, which is surrounded on three sides by CSX's Queensgate Yard, and belongs to NS. This video will show more than 30 minutes of yard action in these two yards. You'll see trains arriving from the north and south waiting their turn to either bypass the yard or enter for switching and classification. The vantage point for video taken of the yard action is from three different viaducts. You'll also see locations leading into Cincinnati from both the Kentucky and Ohio sides of the Ohio River. Panoramic views are also shown from two high overlooks on both the Ohio and Kentucky sides of the Ohio River. To ease congestion of traffic to and from the North, NS and CSX entered a joint agreement for bi-directional running of north and southbound trains from Hamilton, Ohio to Cincinnati. This operation is shown in this program. Approx. 73 MINUTES DVD Special Features- Dolby Digital 5.1 Surround Sound, Chapter Search, Motion Menus, Audio Select Narration On/Off Blu-Ray BD-R Disc Format Widescreen 16x9 1080i

DEEP ROCK RAILROAD

DVD # 20126dvd $24.95

The Deep Rock Railroad is a concentrated layout overflowing with hot train action. There are steam engines, diesels, trolley cars, long trains, short trains, passenger trains, and freight trains. Our railroad has up to three different powered engines running at the same time. In addition, there are moving trucks, boats, and clowns. Oh and our clowns are all insane, and hot to prove it. They jump off mountains and even get run over by trains, but somehow they always walk away unscathed and come right back for more! And there are REAL train sounds. We bet you've never seen a DVD like this with an N-scale roller coaster made with N-scale Atlas flex track. The cars go so fast it's almost hard to see them. There are REAL roller coaster sounds and real roller coaster thrills, wait until you see how fast they whip around those curves! The Cloud Scraper roller coaster is actually 480 scale feet tall, and it has a working motorized chain-link lift mechanism. See it to believe it! The Deep Rock Railroad is an Entertaining, Fun look at a Model Railroad, Plus a Working Roller Coaster and more!

PENN CENTRAL 5-DISC-SET

DVD # 20220dvd $59.95

Penn Central Volume 1-Disc one

Starts prior to the merger of the Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central System, with scenes near Valpariso, Indiana and Wayne, Michigan. After the Penn Central merger, the action centers near Detroit, Altoona, St. Louis, and random views from Michigan and Ohio locations. For most of 1968, the motive power was predominately the NYC and PRR image. The PC herald was primarily sighted on the main lines of Pennsylvania and Ohio.

While filming more than one hundred trains there appeared only twenty-five units with the PC Herald. 82 Minutes Penn Central Volume 1-Disc two Displays the 1969 operations, starting with January action in Michigan and Ohio. In spring we visit Windsor, Canada and then progress through Buffalo, New York, followed by Pittsburgh and more of Ohio, and back to Michigan for more fall and winter action. Variety is enhanced with wreck train equipment and a steam train through Buffalo. The Penn Central image was more evident, with sightings of more than one hundred trains. The count of the PC Heralds produced ninety-seven white worms.

81 Minutes

Penn Central Volume 2

Action in this DVD covers the years 1971 and 1972. We'll visit Chicago, Ohio and Michigan, including Detroit, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Niles, Toledo, Jackson, Carleton, and back to Chicago. Passenger and freight action abounds, as well as equipment still painted in New York Central colors and logos. We'll see the beginning of Amtrak's take-over of passenger service: catch many "new" and old locos such as GP 40-2's, GE U25C's, E-Units, Turbo Trains, Budd Rail cars, and more! The Penn-Central also connects with other railroads such as the DT&I and the C&O. If you love passenger service with name trains such as The Broadway Limited, The Wolverine, The Lake Shore, The National Limited, freight action with cabooses and railroads such as the Pennsy, and the New York Central, you'll love this DVD!

62 Minutes Penn Central Volume 3

Things were a little different on the Penn Central during every one of the eight years of its brief existence. By mid 1971, nearly all the locomotives of the predecessor Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads had been repainted into somber dark, dark Brunswick green. The railroad was mired deeper and deeper in bankruptcy, as a new national rail passenger carrier, Amtrak, was starting to emerge from the dark shadows of the PC's paint scheme following its launching on May 1st, 1971. Emery Gulash had his movie cameras trained on the rail action. He starts with a series of scenes in America's Railroad Capital, Chicago, as Amtrak and Penn Central trains burnish the rails in and out of Union Station. The old Michigan Central depot at Detroit serves as an anchor for Emery, as he returns again and again from his travels to photograph trains at the formidable structure. Amtrak demonstrates its United Aircraft Turbotrain at Niles and Kalamazoo. Toledo comes in for its share of pulsating train operations, as do Ypsilanti, Dearborn, Jackson, Chelsea, New Buffalo, Ann Arbor, Westland, and Delphi Mills, Michigan. Our very full program winds up with scenes of two special passenger trains operated in November 1972 by the Chessie System for General Motors executives bound for a business conference in West Virginia. 75 Minutes Penn Central Volume 4

Hope springs eternal as the snowbanks melt every spring. There was not much hope on the Penn Central, deeply mired in a bottom-less financial quagmire in the spring of 1973. Nobody knew at the time, but the then-five-year-old railroad was at the midpoint in its bankruptcy...it had failed financially on June 21, 1970...on April 1, 1976, it would be absorbed into Conrail. Meanwhile, the railroad and its employees and officials were making the best of the situation...continuing as usual, despite adversity, to provide service across its sprawling system. Emery Gulash was trackside with his movie cameras, recording the pulsating P C rail action during another difficult year. You will see; Electrics, Amtrak trains, First generation Diesels, Passenger trains, DT&I Loco's, a Circus train, Freight trains and more! Locations include; Dearborn, South Junction Yard, Michigan, Romulus, Wayne Junction, Ann Arbor, Ohio, The Northeast Corridor and more... 63 Minutes Approx. 6 hours Volumes 1&2 Dolby Digital 2.0 Stereo Volumes 3&4 DVD Special Features- Dolby Digital 5.1 Surround Sound, Chapter Search, Motion Menus, Audio Select Narration On/Off

Oregon Shortline DVD # 20078DVD

One of the West's busiest mainlines is the Union Pacific's Oregon Short Line through the broad plains and lush valleys of beautiful southern Idaho. Our fourth installment of Green Frog's Super Railroad series takes you to this vital yet often ignored link of the mighty UP system. Watch fast intermodel and perishable trains weave way around heavy merchandise and unit trains on this single track line. West of Pocatello, UP is testing Distributed Power, putting unmanned locomotives at the rear of many long freights to improve train handling. Even Centennial #6936 puts in a guest appearance. If you love the Union Pacific or just want to visit a little seen corner of the scenic west, you will not be disappointed by this video! 60 Minutes DVD Special Features- *Audio Select Narration On/Off *Dolby Digital 5.1 Surround Sound *Chapter Search *Motion Menus

THE BOSTON & MAINE

DVD # CP060

The turbulent years following World War II resulted in dramatic changes to North American railroads. The staid, old Boston and Maine Railroad went through the wrenching change from steam to diesel power. We see steam rush hour traffic highballing out of North Station as the first generation diesels appear on the scene. Then visit North Billerica, several times to see steam power being cut up. Then, almost unexpectedly, a dramatic B&M management change resulted in new blue paint and sent ripples throughout the region's rail network. A keystone of this video are rare scenes of B&M P4 Pacific No. 3713...now being restored at Steamtown in snow melter service in the winter of 1956, and leaving Boston on the memorable "Farewell to Steam" excursion on April 22, 1956. Steam action is also witnessed on the Maine Central, New Haven, Central Vermont, and Grand Trunk in New England, and the Canadian National in Quebec. Then in dramatic developments, tourist steam roads briefly appear at Edaville Railroad, Steamtown in New Hampshire, and Vermont, and the American Freedom Train. 45 Minutes 8mm film transferred to video! RAILROADING THROUGH THE WINTER OF '93

DVD # CP070
The Winter of 1993 was extremely tough on almost everyone in the Northeast part of the North American continent. It was especially rough on the railroads. Schedules were only for reference as train crews, dispatchers and gandy dancers worked long hours to clear tracks, rescue stalled trains, and try to keep up some semblance of operation. Robert McCormack of Hamilton Ontario braved many of these elements to capture some great trains-in-snow action. Green Frog is proud to release this Winter of '93 video production. Taped with professional broadcast equipment, this video covers the Canadian National, Canadian Pacific, Amtrak, CSX, Grand Trunk, Via Rail, and Co Transit. Locations covered include: Alershot, Burlington West, Niagara Falls, Fort Erie, Copetown, Dundas, and Bayview Junction...all in the province of Ontario as well as action in New York State. 59 Mins. DVD Special Features-Dolby Digital 2.0 Stereo, Chapter Search, Motion Menus

MONONGAHELA RAILWAY

DVD # CP064

The Monongahela (Pronounced "Monon-GA-Hela") is a major coal hauling railroad running through Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Unit trains from Detroit Edison, Somerset Railway, Wisconsin Electric, and others are shown in this video. Motive power from the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie, Chicago & Northwestern, CSX, Detroit Edison and Conrail as well as the Monongahela's own handsome Super 7's are shown. You will see four and six axle EMD and GE powered trains (including the new wide cab 4000 hp Conrail units.) The Monongahela is organized into two operating divisions. The Eastern portion of the line is not too scenic, and is not covered on this video in deference to the beautiful scenery available to set off the trains on the Western Division. With action galore, this railroad becomes the seventh largest coal hauling railroad in the United States. In 1989, it moved over 17 million tons of coal! Action is shown on all of the Western Division Branches including the West Brownsville Branch, the Ten Mile Branch, the Manor Branch (including action at Bailey Mine.) The Waynesburg Branch, and the Miracle Run Branch. 60 Minutes DVD Special Features-Dolby Digital 2.0 Stereo, Chapter Search, Motion Menus

THE NEW GEORGIA RAILROAD

DVD # CP067

During 1986, the state of Georgia leased loco number 750, a sparkling, high-wheeled 4-6-0 Pacific type from the Atlanta Chapter of the Railroad Historical Society. This loco was originally built for the Florida East Coast Railroad and eventually sold to the Savannah and Atlanta railroad where it remained in service until retired. The Atlanta chapter of the NRHS obtained it in the 60's and refurbished it for these runs by the state of Georgia. In addition, we've spiced up a few scenes with
